Credit Department: loan pricing

Please confirm the calculation rules and provide supporting schedules before the website calculator is changed. Suggested respondents are Credit and the relevant product owners; management should confirm ownership.

> Reported inputs — clarification pending: business and personal loans: 6% interest; processing fee: 6.75%; cash collateral: 30%. These figures alone are not enough to calculate repayments or APR correctly.

1. Is the 6% interest rate monthly, annual or for the full loan term?
2. Is interest calculated on the original principal (flat) or the remaining balance (reducing balance)? Please provide the exact calculation method.
3. Do business and personal loans use the same terms? What rates and rules apply to the other loan products?
4. What loan amounts, minimum/maximum durations, payment frequency and first-payment dates should the calculator support?
5. What amount is the 6.75% processing fee based on? Is it charged once, paid separately, deducted from the payout or added to the loan balance?
6. What amount is the 30% cash collateral based on? Is it deposited separately or withheld from the payout? When and under what conditions is it released or refunded, and does it earn interest?
7. Are insurance, taxes or any other compulsory charges applicable? Please explain their calculation and collection.
8. What are the approved annual interest rate and APR for the applicable loan terms? APR expresses borrowing cost as a yearly percentage including applicable charges.
9. How are instalments rounded and the final payment adjusted? What early-settlement or late-payment charges must be disclosed, and which should be excluded from a normal estimate?
10. Can Credit provide at least three synthetic or anonymised Flexibank schedules and sign off the matching calculator results?

For each example: product, approved amount, term, interest method, deductions, cash actually received, payment dates/amounts, total interest, fees, total repayment and collateral treatment.

IT, management & coordination

Information Technology / Integration Owners

1. What is the approved general-loan application destination, and which products should use it? MoneyQube must remain separate from the general-loan portal.
2. Who owns the account-opening backend, and can they provide the integration contract and a synthetic-data test environment?

The contract should specify endpoint origin/path; authentication/session, CORS and CSRF requirements; exact field names; upload types and limits (including whether 1.5 MB is per file or total); signature format; validation/success/failure responses; and duplicate/idempotency handling.

3. rapidlinkgh.com and Render are confirmed for now. Which Render production plan is authorised, who owns the account, and who manages DNS, deployments and renewals? The review treats the free tier as preview-only.
4. Which services should remain on Supabase/Render, and who owns access control, backups, patching, monitoring and incident response? AWS is a possible future direction; what conditions would trigger a migration?
5. How should approved publication or withdrawal trigger a website rebuild, and who checks that the deployed site reflects the change?

> Assigned to Caleb — not questions to redistribute: verify hosted Supabase sign-up settings and migrations, obtain hosted RLS evidence, and test storage restrictions. The 28 local RLS checks have passed; hosted and storage verification remain outstanding.

Management / PA coordination

6. Who drafts, reviews, approves and publishes each content type? Which changes require Compliance approval, and who is the final launch approver?
7. Who will receive the CMS comparison due Friday, 13 November 2026? Confirm submission format, reviewer, budget contact and staff-editing requirements.
8. Can the PA coordinate the outstanding departmental responses and arrange the next internal review? What delivery dates and management deadlines should be recorded?

Response standard: identify the responding department, factual owner, approving person, effective date, supporting source and next review date. Where information is unavailable, name the coordinator and an agreed follow-up date instead of guessing.
